

MANY ATTEND FARMERS' WEEK

Chester H. Gray Re-Elected President.
109 Out of the 114 counties in Missouri Represented.

Farmers' Week at Missouri University at Columbia was attended by nearly 3000 people from different parts of the Missouri and other states. Out of the 114 counties of the state, 109 were represented. The attendance this year was the largest they have ever known. In 1919, 1750 people registered; in 1920, 2450 registered and nearly 3,000 attended the 1921 meeting, showing the continued growth of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation.

In the election of the Federation, Chester H. Gray, of Nevada, was re-elected president. Other officers elected were vice president, George V. Saffarans, Marion county; treasurer, R. W. Brown, Carroll county; executive committee, S. S. Connell, Buchanan county; Mrs. C. C. Shuttler, St. Francois county; F. A. McWethy, Johnson county; J. R. Evans, Nodaway county and Wm. H. Wagenbreth, Jr., St. Louis county. Directors are George C. Colburn, Cass county; F. L. Fitch, Linn county and W. G. Clare, Montgomery county.

Fourteen states were represented at the meeting and one was present from Canada. Between 300 and 400 boys and girls representing the Boys and Girls clubs, were at the meeting. Many prizes were distributed to the boys and girls for their agricultural activities. There were distributed 259 blue ribbons and a Missouri boy won a blue ribbon and a tractor on his corn.

Five representatives and five senators from the state assembly were in attendance and took much interest in the legislation requested by the farmers. Dean Mumford of the Agricultural College wants the legislators to make an appropriation of $250,000 for a new college building; $36,000 for experimental purposes and $25,000 for a new dairy barn.

Friday night the annual farmers' banquet was held in the university gymnasium, at which 1000 were served. President Hill of the University, was toastmaster. Lieutenant Governor Lloyd was one of the speakers. The serving was done by the pupils of the Agricultural college.

The evening programs were held in the Academic hall auditorium and it included persons from many distant states who are prominent in agricultural, economic and political life. C. S. Gustafson, president of the Farmers' Union of Nebraska and chairman of the Farmers' Marketing committee of 17, was one of the speakers and outlined the plans of the committee so far as now are possible.

A committee of three was named by the state farm bureau to confer with representatives of the State Board of Agriculture and representatives of the State Veterinary Association, to perfect a state wide system of standard charges for veterinary services applying to health regulations.

It was brought out at the meeting that there are 263,124 Missouri farm owners and renters. The Farm Bureau is organized in sixty-three counties with 55,000 members. The Farm Bureau members in the United States number 1,500,000 in forty-two states.

MORE THAN 300 TAKE JOURNALISM AT M. U.

Columbia, Mo., Jan. 24.—The crop of new newspaper men and women in Missouri is flourishing, if one can judge from the recent report that the enrollment in professional courses at the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri has reached 301, an increase of 15 per cent over the fall term's enrollment. Of these, 221 are men and 80 are women. Students primarily in journalism number 165—108 men and 57 women.

M. U. HAS NEW AGRICULTURAL EDITOR

Columbia, Mo., Jan. 24.—A. A. Jeffrey, of Columbia, for many years a contributor to and editor of farm papers, has been appointed agricultural editor at the University of Missouri. He will have charge of the publications of the College of Agriculture. Mr. Jeffrey, who is a graduate of Cornell College, in Iowa, has been a farmer, a country newspaper man, and associate editor of the Missouri Ruralist. As agricultural editor at Missouri he succeeds O. W. Weaver, who has become publisher of the Monett Journal.

EXHIBIT OF TUBERCULAR GLANDS

Dr. R. F. Whitlock, state veterinarian, has on exhibition at his office 111 Broadway, some specimens of tubercular glands taken from a Jersey cow belonging to Louis Monnet, of south of town.

The cow was tested one day last week and although she was apparently healthy and in good condition she was found to be infected with tuberculosis. A thorough examination of the animal after she was killed showed that the disease had not yet reached the stage where it was dangerous to other animals in the herd and the glands above the udder were not in a condition to infect the milk.

Mr. Monnet was very glad to have the animal taken from his herd as he wished to keep his cattle in a healthy condition and did not want to be the means of spreading the disease.

The glands which Dr. Whitlock is showing are about four times the size of normal glands. They show the presence of pus, but had not yet reached the stage where the pus was transmitted to the circulation of the body. They were just on the verge of reaching this stage, however, and the discovery was made in time.

Considerable interest is being taken at this time in different parts of the state, in the elimination of tubercular cattle. A state law will probably be passed some time in the future to regulate the matter, but in the meantime the problem must be met by the local authorities. It is anticipated that the Monett city council will pass such an ordinance as soon as the matter can be satisfactorily arranged.

M. L. DAVIS INJURED AT FORT SMITH

The following article from a Fort Smith, Ark., newspaper tells of injuries by M. L. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Davis, of near Verona: L. M. Davis, member of the central fire station, was the victim of a serious accident about 8:30 o'clock last night when he fell from the rear of a hose truck, striking the bumper of the aerial truck with his head and face, splitting his lip and loosening several teeth.

He had mounted to the top of the hose truck to replace a burned-out light bulb in the ceiling above the truck. He had made the change and turned, walked to the rear and was in the act of dropping down to the step, when his foot caught in a fold of hose. He lost his balance and pitched forward onto the bumper of the aerial truck that occupies a place on the floor directly behind the hose truck.

Davis was stunned by the fall and his fellow firemen ran to his assistance, bathing his face in water and straightening his body out to a more comfortable position. He soon recovered from the shock and was able to walk to the office of a physician, less than a block away. The physician treated his face and leg and he returned to the station and went to bed. But he was unable to go to sleep and the physician was called to the station to see him and advised that he be sent to his home.

Davis had but recently returned to work after recovering from a broken ankle sustained when thrown from a motorcycle. Prior to that he had the misfortune to have the wearing apparel of himself and wife destroyed by fire. His home is at 1701 Little Rock avenue.

BEN'S BRING TOP PRICE

I. L. Sweeney, manager of the co-operative Marketing Association of this city, sold a car of Ben Davis apples Monday at $5.50 a barrel f. o. b. Bentonville. Last Saturday, he disposed of a car of No. 2 Ben's at $4.75.

Considering the fact the best grades of New York Baldwins can be bought for $4 a barrel, these prices are exceptionally good and goes to prove that the Ben Davis is not a back number, but one of the best sellers on the market any year. —Benton County Record (Ark.)

Jesse Fast, of Hallowell, Kan., visited Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clinton, on his way to Fayetteville, Ark., to take a position with the Maxwell Construction Company.

DRUGGIST VALUES THE NASH AGENCY VERY HIGHLY

Wouldn't Take $500 For It.

The leading druggist of Manilla, Arkansas is selling so much Nash's Croup and Pneumonia Salve that he values his selling agency at $500.

Mr. Stevens made this remark to a representative of Nash Brothers, the manufacturing druggists. He bought 1000 bottles (7 gross) as his first order and soon ordered 720 (5 gross) more. He sold 108 bottles in one day.

Nash's Croup and Pneumonia Salve is positively a blessing to all who use it; No other household remedy seems to have as much value. Nor is it a patent medicine or secret nostrum. On the other hand it is made of the old fashioned things we have all used in the treatment of colds, sore throat, croup and pneumonia for years. As it is applied externally it can be used freely without interfering with the doctors medicine. Sold at 30 cents and 60 cents a bottle by Logan D. McKee's Drug Store.

HYDE CUTS CABINET TO SIX

Draft of Bills for Consideration of State Officers is Approved.

Jefferson City, Jan. 24.—Gov. Hyde's cabinet government plan has been reduced to provide for six departments instead of eleven, to which it was at one time expanded. The governor has read and approved the tentative draft of the bills and they were assigned last night to members of both houses to be put into shape to be introduced. They will probably be introduced next week.

The new measures create departments of finance, or budget, agriculture, labor, public welfare, penal institutions and public works, each under control of commissioner directly responsible to the governor, and constituting the governor's cabinet. The various state departments not directly provided for under the constitution will be placed in one of these six divisions.

Senator Anderson and Representative Caulfield of St. Louis, will draft the labor department bill; Senator Blodgett of St. Louis and Representative Morgan of Putnam county, the finance department bill; Senator Ralph of St. Louis county and Representative Dyott of Howell county, the public works department bill; Representative Whitaker of Hickory county and Senator Robinson of Marion county the educational department bill; Senator Penzel and Representative Lay the penal department bill.

E. T. FRICKER TO OPEN OWN BUSINESS
